

Dear Sirs,

I respectfully urge you, the FCC, to reject petition #04-160 proposed by the NAB. If I could find the variety and the quality on FM radio that I find on XM, I would listen to FM more. Until the traditional FM broadcasters realize that the choice and the variety are what the public want, they deserve to lose listeners. I listen to the XM local traffic and weather because it provides exactly this same diversity of choice - information about length of drive from one point to another, information about average speed and at faster intervals. In fact, I would listen to XM local programming simply because it would mean not having to listen to commercials. Please tell me where on the FM dial I can turn to listen to Bluegrass, push one button to hear about traffic on the road I am using within 3 minutes, and then one button more to listen to 1940s Big Band?

Thank you very much,

Gregg Burrage
